WHO KILLED IT?
My grandson, Robert Newton, took me to see a large rattlesnake that had been killed and hung on the railing of Buck's Mill bridge. He asked if it was big as some of the rattlers I had seen in the Florida Everglades. It was a big snake, measuring over six feet, but I can truthfully say it did not reach the huge proportions of those monsters in the Everglades.

Auditor's Check on Kinston School Repairs Asked

A state auditor's check on the cost of putting a brick wall around the Kinston elementary school was asked by Mrs. R. W. Clark, president of the Kinston P-T. A. at the County School Board meeting Friday at the court house.

In protesting on the cost of the wall put around the base of the elementary school building, Mrs. Clark stated it was not on the north side where it was needed. She said 9200 bricks had been used and 686 bricks left. After figuring how much concrete had been used and earth excavated, T. Clark of Opp gave a bid of $720 on the job that cost the school board in the neighborhood of $1800, Mrs. Clark stated.

In commenting further on the job, Mrs. Clark said the bricks were chipped and the job looked like cheap labor had been used. She said she would like to see the facts put before the school board.

The letter was addressed to E. C. Nevin, principal at Kinston; Charles Mallory, chairman of the trustees and Mrs. Robert Wise, P-T. A. president.

It is indeed a pleasure to reply to your request for information relative to acts committed by this office pertaining to the spending of money.

"This office has no secret acts or records to hide involving things that belong to the public. We consider the things that we do to be open and ready for inspection at any and all times."

"We have nothing to hide. Therefore, the implication made in this office by you that subversive, undermining and misleading acts on the parts of office personnel is only unjustifiable and non-subsistent."

"The following facts will reveal the answer to your request and you may report them to the State Auditors, as was suggested by you, or use them for litigation purposes if you see fit."

Epenses-Vocational Ag. Bldg. Whitehurst & Bass-labor $275.00 Paint & Liner $187.50 (Easy Pay, Elba)

hired by the county board as overseer on the various school construction projects, said more concrete was used than T. Clark bid on. A complete record of every purchase made for the job is in the hands of the county superintendent of education, as is the cost of the labor, Stroud said.

HARRELL PUT ON BOARD
Other action taken by the county board included naming H. J. Harrell of Enterprise as the new members replacing J. E. Pittman, resigned; appointing of two members to go to the State Department of Education in Montgomery to work out final details of transition to a city system for Elba; and discussing the $322,782.50 in indebtedness of the school board, which was approved by the board.

on transition of the Elba schools to a city system.

James Wise, chairman of the city board of education, Ed Kendrick and Max Reeves, members, were present at the meeting. Mr. Wise asked the city pulled out of the county system. They feared with Elba and Enterprise pulling out of the county system, the two cities would not have to assume their pro rata share of old obligations and leave the county system burdened with a debt which couldn't be paid without stripping the county schools.

James Horn, member of the state insurance office staff, explained how the City of Elba could save $120 per year on its insurance policy. He said that the addition of a metal door in the high school building next to the cafeteria would allow the structure to be insured as a separate unit and this save in the neighborhood of $120 per year on fire insurance premiums.

New Methodist Pastor Assigned to Church

Rev. Fred L. Davis, who has served as pastor of the Elba Methodist Church for the past five years delivered his farewell sermon in Elba Sunday night to a large union fifth-Sunday congregation.

During his five years as pastor he has made an outstanding record and a host of friends. A building campaign launched by the preceding pastor, Rev. W. M. Spores, was pushed through to completion and resulted in a commodious Sunday School. An extensive remodeling program was completed in the parsonage recently.

Under the pastorate of Rev. Davis, the Sunday School and all departments of the church have enjoyed a substantial growth.

Store Signs 3-Year Lease

Dave Vaughan announced Tuesday that he concluded a deal Saturday with the Nolen Department Store Company of Mobile whereby that firm has leased the double store room on the southside of the week. The new pastor will occupy the pulpit at the Methodist church on Sunday.

Interment was in Evergreen cemetery, Hayes Funeral Home.

John Brunson, Elba Banker, Offers Tips on Borrowing $$$

Sooner or later almost everyone needs extra money, either to expand his business, buy property, build a home or meet the cost of a sudden illness in the family. Several institutions in town (Southern Benefit Insurance Co. and Emergency Aid Insurance Co. and the bank) are lending agencies. But to find out how to borrow money at the bank, and also to see what makes the wheels inside a small town bank turn, John Brunson, president of Elba Exchange Bank, was interviewed.

First of all, Mr. Brunson explained, a bank operates under certain rules and regulations enforced by state bank examiners. One of these rules governing banks makes it necessary for them to have at least two-for-one on loans. In other words property valued at $5,000 is sufficient collateral for a loan of $2,500.

Persons interested in borrowing money at the bank should list their securities and bring them to a bank official. Mr. Brunson suggests if they are in order and warrant a loan, it will be made, he said. The two-for-one rule applies to loans for livestock, personal property, real estate, autos and appliances.

A non-par bank such as the Elba Exchange Bank, charges on all checks coming from out of town. The bank derives a profit from fees paid by foreign banks and can thus afford to cash checks for its clientele without a charge. This pays the expense of clearing a foreign check where a par bank has to pay to have the work done, Mr. Brunson said.

Loans are made with a specific due date, the bank president said, and it is a courtesy to the bank to live up to the due date. Prompt payments are the best asset for another loan later on. Payments can be made to any teller in the bank and do not have to be made to the bank officers, Mr. Brunson stated.

In explaining the difference between a par and non-par bank, Mr. Brunson said a par bank affiliates itself with a Federal Reserve Bank. It has to pay for all its checks handled by the Federal Reserve system. This makes it necessary for par banks to charge an exchange fee to its customers when they write a check, make a deposit or deposit a foreign check.

A non-par bank such as the Elba Exchange Bank, charges on all checks coming from out of town. The bank derives a profit from fees paid by foreign banks and can thus afford to cash checks for its clientele without a charge. This pays the expense of clearing a foreign check where a par bank has to pay to have the work done, Mr. Brunson said.

As important as a tractor or other piece of equipment on the farm, is a pencil, according to Mr. Brunson. It is important that a farmer keep books on himself to learn whether he is making or losing money in his operation. Too many operators wait until the end of the year to find out how their finances are coming out and then it is too late in lots of cases. An accurate set of books is as important on the farm as it is in a bank where examiners periodically check, according to the bank president.

The convenience and safety of paying bills by check was also stressed by Mr. Brunson. An endorsed check is a paid receipt for anyone and will stand up in court as such. As a further service for depositors who might lose a cancelled check, the Elba Exchange Bank takes pictures of the front and back of each check written by any of its customers. If the cancelled check is then lost, burned or otherwise destroyed, they are still a record of whom endorsed the check and to whom it was made. This record service recently saved a depositor $300 Mr. Brunson stated.

John Brunson, president of the Elba Exchange Bank, is shown examining the machine which takes a photo of the front and back of each check processed through a depositor's account. This service provides a record of the transaction even if the check is lost.

U. S. Birth Rate

In 1952 Sets Record

NEW YORK—More babies were born in the United States during 1952 than in any previous year in the nation's history. The total is estimated at 3,875,000, and the year's birth rate was approximately 25 per 1,000 population.

The past year was the sixth in succession in which the number of births exceeded 3,500,000.

The maintenance of the birth rate at the current high level is "described by statisticians as 'unexpected' in view of a decline since 1946 in the marriage rate."

Last year's record reflects a large number of second, third and fourth children born of post-World War II marriages and is, to some extent, the result of the relatively low age at marriage in recent years. It also may be considered an indication of a change in attitude of the young married couple of the nation as to the size of the family.

Infant mortality was probably the lowest ever experienced in any year. It was estimated at a little over 28 per 1,000 births.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Scripture: II Corinthians 8:9
Devotional Reading: Luke 9:17-38

Serve By Sharing

Lesson for June 7, 1953

A FIELD of soy beans in North Carolina; 97 head of steers in Colorado; a calf and eggs in Bloomington, Texas; 1500 boxes of apples in Washington; hogs in North Dakota and chickens in Wisconsin. What ties all these together? These are products of the farm. Thousands of projects last year. Thousands of projects in every part of the nation have been working on such plans for more than 25 years now. The idea is to dedicate to the Lord a field, some head of cattle, whatever the farm product, and let the Lord's blessing be upon it. They are generally successful, but the great success has been in the happy mess and satisfaction of those who have worked on these things.

First and foremost is the best giver had first of all given their own selves to the Lord. The St. Paul was right. You can't expect big contributions or hard work from those who are still essentially selfish. You have to convert a man's heart before you can convert his money. And even if you gave God everything but your self, you would not yet have given the very thing He wants most of all.

Sharing the honor

"They simply begged us to accept their gifts and so let them share the honor of supporting their brothers in Christ." So Phillips translates II Cor. 8:4. Paul is describing the way in which the churches up in Macedonia had contributed to what we would call the benevolent fund. Christ giving is all in the way the giver looks at it. If it is thought of as a burden, if it is thought of as something only the wealthy can rightly do, if it is thought of as something the poor should be begging for, a kind of chore at best, then of course the giving won't be much. It will be only enough to keep from giving nothing at all. But giving in the cause of Christ, for the use and help of God's people, is an opportunity, not a chore. There is all the difference in the world between the giver who says (in effect), "Well, if you must have something, I'll give you something," and the one who says, "Let me get in on this."

The Lord Loves

The Bible does not encourage anyone to fancy that he can buy his way into God's favor. God's love is not for sale. God loves a cheerful giver, even though He seldom turns away givers of any sort. A sour and selfish man might be high-pressure into gloomily surrendering a few dollars into the church budget, and those dollars will do some good; but the Bible does not suggest that God cares much for that sort of giving. Giving till it hurts may be good, but giving till it doesn't hurt is better. We remember Jesus' comment on the offering of the wealthy Pharisees and the poor widow. Is there any one who can think God loved her and them alike?

Carrying Through

So there are three principles of Christian giving: personal dedication, a sense of privilege in sharing God's work, and enthusiasm. As Paul puts it (again Phillips' translation): "Show that you can complete what you set out to do with as much efficiency as you showed readiness to begin." (II Cor. 8:13)

A good Lord's Acre project calls for more than enthusiasm in the springtime. It has to be a hard work most of the summer. The work of the church, and indeed every undertaking for the welfare of mankind, is best carried on not by those who blow all their steam at once, but by those who save up some steam for the long steady pull. Long mileage is worth more than a flashy start.

Home Fires Increase Sharply Since 1946
NEW YORK—Fires in American homes have taken a sharp turn upward since the end of World War II. In fact, fire prevention experts say the rate of fires in homes has increased faster than the rate of housing construction.

Home Fires Increase Sharply Since 1946
They point out that since 1947 there has been a 10 per cent increase in the total number of dwelling units. In contrast, there has been a 32 per cent increase in the number of fires in residences. The experts blame the increase in fires mainly on careless smokers, faulty heating units, worn out appliances and electrical wiring, overloaded electrical circuits, and poor housekeeping.

Swedes Build Bomb Shelters for Ships, People and Planes
STOCKHOLM, Sweden—The engineering Swedes are building atomic bomb shelters which will shelter almost all of Sweden's Air Force and Navy. And in the center of Stockholm construction is underway on a shelter that will house 20,000 civilians and give them complete protection against a direct hit by an atomic bomb.

White House Floors Nearly Imperishable
WASHINGTON—Barring fire or other catastrophe, the new floors of the renovated White House will be tried by presidents and diplomats long after the events of today are faded away in history.

Wild Geese Try to Aid A Crippled Companion
GREENWICH, Conn.—Helping one's neighbor is a natural thing to do. And the practice is not limited to humans.

Wild Geese Try to Aid A Crippled Companion
Two wildfowl observers report this incident:
A large flock of geese that had spent the winter in a wildlife sanctuary began to fly north in groups as spring approached. When the last flock took off one goose was left behind on the water.

Wild Geese Try to Aid A Crippled Companion
By its futile efforts to rise, the observers could see that one wing was broken.
As the observers watched, two geese from the flock returned to the wounded bird. They swam close on either side of the cripple, and then all three skittered across the surface of the water, the two helpers beating their wings strongly in an effort to lift the disabled one between them.

Wild Geese Try to Aid A Crippled Companion
This maneuver was tried twice, but it failed. Then the two helpers looked farewell and flew away.
At last report the wounded goose is still living in the cove, being fed by the watchers.

Wild Geese Try to Aid A Crippled Companion

About People and Things

By C. B. McDowell

IMPRESSIVE EXERCISES
My wife, grandson, Robert Newton and I attended the graduation exercises of Monticello, Fla. high school June 3. Another grandson, James McClellan, was a member of the class. James was voted the most popular boy and best football player.

A unique feature of the program was that the salutatorian gave the invocation and the benediction was pronounced by the valedictorian, Congressman Bob Sykes delivered an interesting address.

It was the third time this spring that I had stood through the melancholy, doleful strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" while the funeral procession was stirring everybody to a frazzle.

When I arose for the Reconciliation, prepared to make another offering, I imagine my surprise when the piano burst forth with the peppy strains of "War March of the Priests." Those young graduates picked up their ears and kicked up their heels like young colts, eager to go somewhere without a loss of time. Everybody was greatly relieved. It was a happy ending to a recession that commenced audiences have customarily come to regard as a "depression."

MISTAKEN IDENTITY
The Elba Clipper was mistaken last week when it stated Mrs. W. F. Fortner was undergoing "treatment" in a Montgomery hospital. Mr. & Mrs. Fortner's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert Fortner, is the patient and is reported improving.

MRS. HUTCHISON ON JOB
After being absent from her office for seven months on account of illness, Mrs. Gussie Hutchison, executive secretary of the West Coffee County chapter of the American Red Cross, is again on the job.

JOHN D. SMITH BOUGHT
John D. Smith bought a cotton bloom Monday morning, one day earlier than the one he bought last year. Mr. Smith made over a bale of cotton to the acre last year on 50 acres and had to import a small army of pickers to harvest the crop. He has 50 acres again and said it was looking good with numerous blooms Monday morning.

ELBA DROPS PAIR
In two games played last week Elba, member of the Conecuh River Baseball League, lost to Gadsden by a 7-5 count. In Elba Sunday the locals dropped a 13-2 decision to Louisville. A feature of the game was a grand slam homer by a Louisville batsman.

30 IN 1
